While no world records were broken, two American field event figures were surpassed. In addition, two Amateur Athletic union senior championship records went to the board and another was equalled. WESTERN MEN SCORE

Western athletes scored heavily in the record breaking, both in the American and the A. U. classes. Sol Butler, negro sprinter and broad jumper, led Dubuque College, Ia., to 24 feet eight inches in the broad jump, displacing the record made by Meyer Prinstein at Philadelphia in 1919.

Prinstein was a student at Syracuse university when he cleared 24 feet 7 1/4 inches just two years ago. Butler who also holds the A. U. P. record in the broad jump, tried for the world's record of 24 feet 11 3/4 inches made by Pat O'Connor in England in 1901, but failed.

MILTON S. ANGIER, a student at the University of Illinois, A. C. was the other westerner to establish a new American record when he shot out the javelin 132 feet 10 3/4 inches, surpassing George A. Broder's record of 130 feet, 6 inches, made at Newark in 1916 while a member of the Irish-American A. C. of New York.

More than six high jumpers cleared better than six feet, the winner, John Murphy of the Multnomah A. C. of Portland, Ore., was obliged to better his former A. U. championship record of 6 feet 3 1/4 inches to win the record of 6 feet 6 inches, made at Newark in 1916 while a member of the Irish-American A. C. of New York.
